Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response RCE submitted on February 16, 2005.
2. The Information Disclosure Statement submitted on February 16, 2005 have been considered, initialized and entered into the file.
3. Claims 66-91, 93-106, 108-115, 117, 119-133 and 135-138 are now pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claims 111, 114, and 132-133 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

With regard to claim 111, the preamble recites “a computing device” which is not necessarily hardware, and the remainder of the claim recites “a receiver component” and “a group state component”, which are software components. Thus, the alleged “computing device” does not implemented in hardware, the claim is non-statutory and is rejected under 35 USC § 101 as not being tangible.

With regard to claim 114, the preamble recites “a computing device” which is not necessarily a hardware, and the remainder of the claim recites “means for receiving an indication”, “means for determining multiple characterization modules”, and “means for gathering current information” In the specification, the examiner did not find any equivalent hardware for the above means plus functions. Since the alleged “computing device" does not necessarily include hardware, thus, the claim is non-statutory and is rejected under 35 USC § 101 as not being tangible.

With regard to claim 132, even though the preamble recites "a portable device", hardware, but the remainder of the claim recites nothing about the alleged portable device, instead of reciting a hardware component of the alleged "portable device", the remainder of the claim rather recites software modules, i.e., "an input module" and "a group context modeler". The claim is at best directed to an arrangement of software, per se, and is non-statutory, thus, the claim is rejected under 35 USC § 101 as not being tangible.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. For similar reasons given in the previous Office action, Claims 66-91, 93-106, 108-110, 115, 117, 119-131 and 135-138 are allowed.
6. Claims 111, 114, 132 and 133 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 101, set forth in this Office action.
7. Claims 112 and 113 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 101, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
